FOOD SAFETY POLICY

UNIPAKHELLAS North S.A., a member of Indevco group, produces corrugated board, carton boxes and other carton packaging materials to serve the Greek and European markets.

UNIPAKHELLAS North S.A is committed to satisfy applicable food safety requirements, including statutory and regulatory requirements by establishing a Food Safety Management System to ensure that its products are free from any biological, chemical or physical hazards, suitable to serve food, agricultural and pharmaceutical industries.

With the thorough implementation of ISO 22000:2018 Food Safety Management System we will associate ourselves with our customers in order to add value to their business and products and contribute positively to their food safety chain.

The competencies and resources required for the proper implementation of the Food Safety Management System are ensured by senior management through systematic review and evaluation which also commits to address internal and external communication issues.

We will thrive to reflect our true image of hygienic producer of corrugated packaging by adopting a continual improvement process.

Food Safety Policy is reviewed periodically according to the requirements of the food safety management system which provides a framework to UNIPAKHELLAS North S.A. for setting and reviewing its food safety objectives, it is communicated, understood and applied within the organisation and is available to the interested parties through our company's website or upon request.
